

MANY EVENTS TO ENGAGE SOCIETY

Social Life in Richmond Promises to Be Bright and Lively This Fall.

HOME-COMING HAS SET IN

Those Who Have Sought Rest and Recreation Are Flocking Homeward.

Trovato.

Is it but the idle fancy
Of a mocking dream,
That together, leaf and blossom, by the
Indus once we grew;
And that half came, or Omar,
To imprison the aroma,
In some half-remembered measure which
Has rhythmized me to you?

Is it false or is it real,
That, in ages more ideal,
I was song and you were Sappho; you
were sunbeam, I the dew?
For I long have felt the burden,
Of a passion, vague and virginal,
Which you quicken to remembrance of
A former life we knew.

Were you stream when I was willow?
Was I shell when you were billow?
For your voice has ever echoed through
The husk of my heart!
And it seems, as I behold you,
That the very air foretold you,
By the fragrance which, in welcome, all
The budding buds impart.

But at last I stand beside you,
And the fate which long denied you
Yields, in recompense, a dearer incarnation
Than my dream;
What I sought to what you are, Love,
Was as twilight to the star, Love,
As the languor is to summer, as the murmur to the stream.

And since age on age has perished
But to bring the soul I cherished,
Wherein thought and feeling blended,
As are soul and perfume,
Let us linger here forever,
Where the pride of age is endeavor,
Is a fervor unto passion is as glamor
Unto gloom.

Yet, if Fate reserves its malice,
But to break the lifted chalice,
Let me mingle with the elements, where
Once I was a part,
Then, on some supernatural morning,
Which your beauty is adorning,
As a dewdrop in a lily, I may nestle
In your heart.

—Horace E. Scudder.

Early Autumn Season.

September marks the opening of the early autumn season, when many who have been spending the midsummer months out of town will return to set their houses in order, and put in motion the social machinery that will come into full play by October, when the Richmond Horse Show will bring together the beauty and fashion of Richmond.

Everything promises well for the future. The Academy of Music, under its present management, has many attractions to present. Richmond hostesses will vie with each other in the number and beauty of their home entertainments. The approaching completion of the battleship Virginia, now in the dock yards at Newport News, brings nearer the presentation to the ship by the Virginia Colonial Dames of a handsome piece of silver.

The annual State convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, to be held this autumn in Richmond, will be invested with great interest, as the business sessions will be preceded by a meeting of the board of directors of the Jefferson Davis Monument Association and the laying of the cornerstone of the monument with appropriate ceremonies. A little later and the annual game of football at Thanksgiving will be attended by a delightful round of luncheons, drag and taily parties, and finished up by the Thanksgiving ball, with the "debutante's figure" as its greatest attraction.

Already among the patriotic, historic and philanthropic societies of women there is an awakening thrill, indicative of a winter of energetic work. The fact that much remains to be done at Jamestown before 1907 will serve as a spur to the efforts of the societies directly and indirectly concerned in its development and its appearance during the exposition year.

The Woman's Club, through its committees, has outlined an excellent social, instructive, literary and musical program, in which all the members are actively interested.

The autumn wedding bells have already begun to chime, and the list of autumn marriages in Richmond and Virginia promises much brilliancy in the way of wedding entertainments.

There are rumors of coming-out functions, at which the debutantes of the season are to be presented fully launched, and it is to be credited, the husbands of 1905-1906 will be the most favored.

You'll Not Have Aching Feet

When once you've worn the John Kelly "E-Z Cushion Turn Shoe" for women.

Made on the most fashionable lasts—the easiest, too.

This shoe has a genuine Australian Felt Insole, that insures comfort and ease and keeps out dampness.

Miss Detrick Engaged.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Detrick, of Lorraine, announce the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Pollard, to Mr. William Samuel Tyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tyler, of No. 516 West Franklin Street.

The wedding will be celebrated in October at All Saints' Episcopal Church and will be among the most interesting social events of the autumn. Miss Detrick is one of the handsomest and most popular girls in Richmond, and Mr. Tyler is equally well known and liked.

Ivey-Seaton.

A very interesting wedding will be solemnized on Wednesday, September 6th, at noon, in the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Charles Eugene Ivey, No. 247 Grove Avenue, when Miss Virginia Ivey will become the bride of Mr. Charles Eugene Ivey. No invitations have been issued, and only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties will witness the ceremony.

Miss Seaton is the attractive and only daughter of Mr. W. E. Seaton, and possesses many lovable traits of character. Mr. Ivey is the stationer and advertising manager of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company.

Covington-Holland.

The wedding of Miss Nina Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Holland, of Salem, and the late Dr. N. G. Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Covington, of Laurinburg, N. C., will be celebrated Wednesday evening, September 6th, at 8:30 o'clock, in the home of the bride, at 515 S. 10th St., by the Rev. Dr. R. C. Holland, uncle of the bride, to be the celebrant.

The house will be handsomely decorated with palms and flowers. Miss Hattie Wolfenden will direct the music and render the wedding marches. The bride will be accompanied by her bridesmaids, and during the ceremony will strike the soft notes of "Con Amore."

The bride will be gowned in a dark blue silk traveling costume, with a blue hat. She will carry a white prayer-book.

After the ceremony an informal reception will be held. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Covington will go to Laurinburg, N. C., to visit the groom's parents, and from there will proceed to Wilmington, their future home, where Mr. Covington, whose mother was formerly Miss Sally Winston, of Hanover, Va., holds the position of teller in the Southern National Bank.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding will be Mr. H. M. Fox, of Emporia, Va., attorney for Tidewater Railway, and Miss Fox; Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Holland, of Charlotte, N. C.; Mrs. George Holland, of Newbury, S. C.; Mr. Archibald Throckmorton, dean of Law School in Kentucky University, and Mrs. Throckmorton; the Rev. and Mrs. C. Fox, of North Carolina, and the Rev. and Mrs. C. K. Bell, of the same State.

Water Trip to Detroit.

About the middle of August, Professor and Mrs. H. T. Lennan, of Williamsburg, Va., took the trip by water to Detroit, Michigan. Taking boat at Norfolk, Va., for New York City, they went from there up the ever-beautiful Hudson, where the Palisades, Highlands and Catskills, if possible, looked more beautiful than ever; then to Niagara Falls and Buffalo. Here, crossing historic Lake Erie, they proceeded up the Detroit River to Detroit, where they expect to remain till about the middle of September.

Later they expect to go to Saint Clair Falls, called "The Little Venice of America." The water of the St. Clair, flowing under the houses, which are built on piles driven in the bed of the lake. It is an ideal summering place.

The Woman's Shop.

Tailoring Dep't.

An Announcement of Special Interest To All the Ladies of Richmond.

The flattering trade we have received at your hands during the first year of our business has encouraged us to put forth still greater efforts for the coming season, and one of our new departures will be the installing in our new second floor a strictly first-class tailoring parlor. We have secured a man who comes to us with the highest possible recommendation, and propose to give to the Richmond ladies the highest class of made-to-order suits it has ever been their pleasure to inspect. Our stock of material has been carefully selected, and the workmanship will be of the highest order and will stand the judgment of the most critical.

Of course, this will in no way interfere with our ready-to-wear department on the first floor, where we will at all times have on display everything that is new and dressy in tailor-made suits, skirts, waists, furs, etc.

With thanks for the kind favors bestowed upon us during the past year, we courteously invite you to call on us this fall to supply your wants in our line.

BAD YEAR FOR FARMERS ON THE NORTHERN NECK

The Menhaden Fishing Turns Out a Success for the Season.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

HEATHSVILLE, Va., Sept. 2.—The summer of 1905 will long be remembered by the farmers of the Northern Neck as one of the most unlucky and unprofitable in years, for agricultural interests. Nearly everything they have "put their hands to" seems to have resulted in a failure. All the early trucks were dead failures, few truckers having cleared expenses. The wheat crop was almost as much of a failure. The few crops which measured up to the average yield were so damaged by rain as to bring little or nothing in market. The tomato crop, usually the farmers' "stand-by," proved almost an entire failure. On the early crop most of the growers made some little beside expenses, as the fruit brought excellent prices. The late crop, however, is altogether a failure. Usually more tomatoes are grown than the market can possibly handle. This year only about one-third of the factories are running, and these only a few hours each day.

One of the densest growths of corn has been raised, ever known here, owing to the unusually heavy rains. The corn has been raised very poorly, however, and the yield will be below the average. The hay crop, too, has turned out short, and a large percentage has been ruined by rain. Large amounts of fodder are also being spoiled by the rains, and much anxiety is being felt lest provender should turn out scarce next spring. Menhaden fishing has improved very much in the past few weeks, and the "fish men" seem much encouraged. Usually the factory owners are satisfied if they clear expenses during the summer, and a large number of the fish caught during the season, come down the coast every fall. It is of these fish that money is made. A few more weeks of the present fishing will put the factories far ahead, and with the fall fishing, the season will turn out a very successful one after all.

Mr. George Mason, of Colonial Beach, has been chosen by the Democratic party of Northumberland and Westmoreland counties, as their candidate for the State Legislature. As yet the Republicans have nominated no one, although it is understood they will fight Mr. Mason's candidacy.

In Richmond and Lancaster counties the Republicans have chosen Mr. Edward Garland, of Warsaw, to oppose Mr. John Arlett, of Lancaster, the Democratic nominee for the Legislature.

Lane's Plurality.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PORT HARTWELL, Va., September 2.—In the recent Democratic primary Mr. G. E. T. Lane received for the House of Delegates 43 votes in Mathews county as against 36 for both of his opponents, making his majority in the election 230, instead of 175, as erroneously published.
